Black-White Binaries of European Christianity and Colonialism in African and Diasporic Literature (Paperback)

By Montayj

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . The focus and aim of this research is to highlight the implementation of a black-white binary system by European society created in order to establish a superior white and inferior non-white individual. The structural setup of this system, or better yet its execution was done through strategic, vulture-like acts by foraging imperialists. It entails the appropriation of and the deflection of original, innate cultures, religions, resources, and traditions that Europe lacked, then twisting what was appropriated and making it unnatural. In other words, everything black or associated with the color black, whether it is by itemizing inanimate objects, theoretically speaking, or racialized, suffers from artificial stigmata. These ideas are interwoven into Chinua Achebe s Arrow of God, Ngugi wa Thiong o s The River Between, Maryse Conde s I, Tituba, Black Witch of Salem, William Well Brown s Clotel; or the President s Daughter, and Nella Larsen s Quicksand, through the dynamics of colonialism and religion. Within, the author tackles the definitional and categorical images of the two binary colors, black for evil and white for good, the root of these...
